Herald Honored For Cooperation By Church Unit

The Torrance HERALD was honored for its "valuable year-round service and generous cooperation with non-profit organizations" at the fifth annual Press Dinner of the Methodist Men's Club of Alondra Park Methodist Church Saturday evening.

Glenn W. Pfeil, general manager of the HERALD, accepted the award at the gathering of more than 300 parishioners and civic leaders.

Cited for their community service along with this newspaper were the Lawndale Tribune, Gardena Valley News, Gardena Wave-Tribune and Los Angeles Times.

District Attorney William McKesson was the principal speaker.

Elks Pay Herald Honors During Newspaper Fete

The Torrance HERALD was singled out for its contributions to the community by the Torrance Elks Lodge last week as that group paid tribute to newspapers during National Newspaper Week.

Exalted Ruler Ralph Jakubowski commended the HERALD for its public service to the city and read letters to this newspaper from Mayor Albert Isen, Chamber of Commerce President A. E. Thompson, and City Manager George Stevens.

A scroll recognizing the HERALD's part in the preservation of a free press in America was presented to Managing Editor Reid Bundy by Jakubowski.

Other newspaper representatives introduced and commended by the exalted ruler during the evening included Baxter Omohundro of the Long Beach Press-Telegram and Ernest Belt of the Lawndale Tribune.
